ROBIN'S COME!

From the alm tree's topmest bough, Back! the rabin nearly song, Telling one and all, timi now Morry Spring-time hostes along; Welcome tidings then deat bring, Little barbloger of Spring! Robin's come!

Of the winter we are weary, Weary of its freet and snow, Longing for the sunstitute cheery.

And the brocklet's gargling flow;
Gladly then we hear thee slop—
Hobin's come!

Ring it out o'er hill and plain.
Through the garden's londy howers,
Till the green leaves dance again.
'Ell the air is awest with flawers; Wake the newatire by the rill, Wake the willow daffood— Robin's count!

Then, as then wert went of yore, Build the dest and rear the young.

Close beside our cottage door,
In the woodblue's leaves among:
Hart or barm than used'at not fear,
Nothing rude simil centure near—
Robin's come!

Swinging still o'er vonder lane, Robin answers merrily; Ravished by the awest refeats, Alice claps her hands in glee, heating from the open door With her clear votes, o'er and o'er,
